HE most safe, effectual and economical remedy for diseases of the Human Constitution, that has ever been dis-

These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted These Fills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury, or any mineral substance. Dr Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the Human System, derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or, in other words, an increased or diminished se the liver; or, in other words, an increased or diminished se cretion of the Bile.

So well is this understood, that it is common for persons to cretion of the Bile.

So well is his understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell, that they are bilious, meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach. On the other hand, when the flow of bile is diminished, the process of digestion is imperfectly performed, the patient becomes weak and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food taken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food is ejected in a crude state. Dr Kingley is confident that the famous Hygeian Theory, so called, that 'impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases," is a great absurdity. Every one who reflects upon the subject a moment, will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary, not a primary complaint—the effect and not the cause of disease. When the functions of the liver are deranged, and the flow of bile increased, it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and curried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood as in Jaundice, when the patient shows it in his countenance. Now this impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the biver, and restore it to a healthy state.

Dr Kingley has spent much time in experimenting with different vegetable medicines, for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the bast, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public, he is actuated more by benevolent then pecuniary motives, as the price of the medicine will show.

They are mild and preasant in their operation, and convey almost immediate conviction of their utility from the first dose. They can be taken with safety by persons of any age, and the feeble, the infirm, the nervous, the delicate, are strengthened by their operation, because they clear the system of bad humors, quiet nervous irritabilities and restlessness, from whatever source, and invariably produce sound sleep.

The Family Pills are an invariable remedy for the jaundice, sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia, costiveness, sickness of the stomach, heartburn, all bilious complaints, fevers of all kinds, and if taken at the commencement will invariably check their progress, and save the patient from a protracted and dangerous sickness. They are invaluable in nervous and hypocondrical affections, loss of appetite, and all complaints to which temales alone are subject. POETRY.

THE LOVED, AND LOST. They saw her laid with many a tear In death's eternal sleep; They wept upon her early hier,' But I—to whom she was so dear—

I was not there to weep ! They saw her wither—one by one They mark'd her charms decay, Till life's last fading leaf was gone, And all was senseless clay; But I-who lov'd so tenderly I was not there to see her die !

They watch'd her sad and wand'ring glance, That sought around in vain; They woke her from her fev'rish trance, And sooth'd her dying pain; But I-to whom her thoughts had fled, I was not there-and she is dead !

WHY ARE ROSES RED.

In days of yore, ere vice began, Or death became the lot of man, The roses all were pure and white, But changed to red in one sad night, When outcast Eve, o'erwhelm'd with shame, From Eden's blissful garden came. No longer pure, from blemish free, The spotless white we e'er shall see. Eve's tears from some effaced the stain Which still, though tinged, their white retain: Soon thoras their ten ler stalks invest, No more with safety to be prest; Sad emblem, which conveys to man That sorrow came when vice began.

MOUNT SINAI. From " incidents of travel in Egypt, Arabia, &c. by an American. * * * At eight o'clock I was breakfasting; the su perior was again at my side, offered all that the convent could give, and orging me to stay a month, a fortnight, a week, at least, to spend that day with him, and repose myself, after the fatigues of my journey, but from the door of the little room in which I sat I saw the holy mountain, and I longed to stand on its lofty summit. Though feeble and far from well, I felt the blood of health again coursing in my veins, and congratulated myself that I was not so hackneyed is feeling as I had once supposed. I found, and I was happy to find, for the prospective esjoyment of my farther journey, that the first tangible monument in the history of the bible, the first spot that could be called holy ground, raised in my feelings that had not been awakened by the most classic ground of Italy and Greece, or the proudest monuments of the arts in Egypt.

Continuing our ascent the old monk still leading the way, in about a quarter of an hour we came to the table of rock standing boldly out, and running down, almost perpendicularly, an immense distance to the valley, I was excting another monkish legend and my heart thrilled when the monk told me that this was the top of the hill on which Moses had sat during the battle of the Israelites and the Amalkites while Aaron and Mur supported his uplifted hands, until the sun went down upon the victorious arms of his people. From the height L could see clearly and distinctly, every partof the battle ground, and the whole vale of Repidim and the mountains beyond; and Moses, while on this spot, must have been visible to the contending armies from every part of the field on which they were engaged.

I stand on the very peak of Sinni-where Moses stood when he talked with the Almighty. Can it be, or is it a mere dream? Can this naked rock have been the witness of that great interview between man and his Maker? where amid thunder and lightning, and a fearful quaking of the mountains, the Almighty gave to his chosen people the precious tables of his law, those rules of infinite wisdom and goodness which, to this day, best teach man his duty is store towards his God, his neighbor, and himself?

The scenes of many of the incidents recorded in the Bible are extremely uncertain. Historians and geographers place the garden of Eden, the paradise of our first parents, in different parts of Asia; and they do not agree upon the site of the tower of Babel, the mountains of rat, and many of the most interesting places in the Holy Land; but of Sinai there is no doubt. This is the holy mountain, and among all the stupendous works of Nature, not a place can be selected more fitted for the exibition of Almighty power. I have stood upon the summit of the giant Etna, and looked over the clouds floating beneath it; upon the bold scenery of Sicily, and the distant mountains of Cabria; upon the top of Vesuvius, and looked down upon the waves of lava, and the ruined and half recovered cities at its foot; but they are nothing compared with the terrific solitude and bleak majesty of Sinai. An observing traveller has well called it "a perfect sea of desolation." Not a tree, or shrub, or blade of grass, is to be seen upon the barc and rugged sides of innumerable mountains, heaving their naked summits to the skies while the crumbling masses of granite all around, and the distant view of the Syrian desert, with its boundless waste of sands form the wildest and most dreary, the most terrific and desolate picture that imagination can conceive.

The level surface of the very top or pinnacle is about sixteen feet square. At one end is a single rock about twenty feet high, on which, as said the monk, the spirit of God descended, while in the crevice beneath his favored servant received the tables of the law. There, on the same spot where they were given, I opened the sacred book in which those laws are recorded, and read them with a deeper feeling of devotion, as if I were standing nearer and receiving them more directly from the Deity himself.

The Boston Atlas contains an account of " A GREAT MEETING AT FANEUIL HALL," the object of which was to put down the law requiring the payment of specie for postage. The clause in the law passed 14th April,

" SECTION 2. That hereafter no bank notes of a less denomination than ten dollars, and that from and after the third day of March, Anno Domini eighteen hundred and thirty-seven, no bank notes of a less denomination than twenty dollars shall be offered in payment in any case whatever in which money is to be paid by the United States or THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT; NOR SHALL ANY BANK NOTE OF ANY DENOMINATION BE SO OFFERED, UNLESS THE SAME SHALL BE PAYABLE AND PAID ON DEMAND IN GOLD AND SILVER COIN AT THE PLACE WHERE ISSUED, AND WHICH SHALL NOT BE EQUIVALENT TO SPECIE AT THE PLACE WHERE OFFERED, AND CONVERTIBLE INTO GOLD AND SILVER UPON THE SPOT, AT THE WILL OF THE HOLDER, AND WITHOUT DELAY OR LOSS TO HIM: Provided, nothing herein contained shall be construed to make any thing but gold and silver a legal tender by any individual, or by the United States.'

It will be seen that one portion of this section was intended to provide for the contingency which has just hap-pened. It makes it the imperative duty of the Postmaster General to reject all bank notes, &c., "not convertible into gold and silver upon the spot." It was intended to prevent the Boston bank notes, (as well as all other notes,) from being received for postages after the banks ceased to pay specie. The Hon. Abbott Lawrence, member from Boston, voted for this law; all parties in the House supported it: it was passed without a division. The Postmaster General is sworn to see it executed. When, therefore, the precise state of circumstances occurred which the law was intended to meet, the Postmaster General issued his circular, notifying his deputy of the duty imposed upon him. Mr Abbott Lawrence, and his political friends, had the great meeting at Fancuil Hall to put down the law which, as their representative, he had made it the absolute duty of the public administration to see executed. But they do not stop at the mere nullification of the law. They deem it necessary to their purposes to denounce the naked suggestion, through a circular to the deputy postmaster, by his principal, of the duty enjoined by the law. They say-" That the execution of the Post Office circular [which copies the law verbation] would be oppressive, exacting, and impracticable; that it would be resisted peaceably,' if it were possible; 'forcibly,' if it were necessary—at any rate, that it should be AT ALL.

Mr Lawrence, one of the authors of the law, " would not hesitate to speak his sentiments of the administration." "Men, with feelings of men, could not repress their indignation" at the outrage committed by the administration in thinking to perform their duty in executing laws but recently passed with amost entire unanimity! This abominable, nay, execrable purpose, on the part of the administration, extorts from this amiable man and patriotic lawgiver this exclamation-" there is no people on the face of God's earth that is so abused, cheated, plundered, and trampled, by their rulers, as are the people of the United States!"

Can any one suppose that it is the payment of an additional cent in paper on a ten cent letter, that so exasperates one of the richest men of Boston? one who has thriven so by monopoly, that he was dubbed the lord of Lowell by some of his brethren of the House of Representatives? Can any one imagine that the people of a city, which has so cheerfully borne Mr Biddle's usurious exactions in note shaving, sometimes little short of fifty per cent. per annum on paper, payable in specie, would be willing to run into revolution, to rid themselves of a law passed by themselves, which compels them to lose one cent in paper to enable them to pay ten cents in specie, for a letter charged with that postage? No; none can attach the least credit to the ostensible cause of this frenzy. The man of considerable business and means, and such a man never could fly to revolution to escape from the oppression of paying ten dollars extra in depreciated paper, to obtain the specie required to be paid for postages by law.

The truth is, the fury exhibited in the proceedings we quote is party fury. The bank barons are resolved that the money institutions, established by them, shall put down the political institutions established by the people. Messrs Barrings said of it in their bank circular, published in London, (the American people were furnished with a copy through the National Intelligencer,) the present is a contest between "the monied aristocracy and the de. mocracy of numbers." Hence the revolutionary spirit which pervades the annexed proceedings.

If the Government of the United States can be driven to receive a spurious, depreciated, irredeemable paper issued by the banks, in payment of its revenue, this at once not only destroys so much of the Constitution as secures the labor of the people, by a fixed standard of value, from the frauds practised through paper credits, but it puts the Government at once at the disposal of those who wield the banking power. It must bring it into perfect dependence and what is worse, disgrace. The great effort, therefore, of those who have brought about the suspension of specie payments, is to compel the government to acquiesce in it. This done, three great points are carried: first the payments of delets to the Government, and all others, in a medium already at a discount of ten per cent, to set aside the laws, receives an authoritative national sanction; second, the gold and silver of the nation is resigned to enrich foreign nations, by cit zens out of debt and entitled to hold it, who are to be satisfied with paper in lieu of it; and this is in accordance with Mr Biddle's principle, that an independent citizen of an independent State owes his first duty to a foreign State; and thirdly, it opens the way to the establishment of a bank government of controlling influence, as the only means of ultimate escape from the

The peculiar animation with which these prospects inspire the Bostonians, is occasioned by the fact that Mr Webster is chosen by the whigs of New York as the instrument of directing the revolutionary movements, on the success of which all depends. His elevation to the Presidency is to consummate that triumph which was so anxlously brooded over in the Hartford Convention. Our readers will read in the extracts from the New York press, which were simultaneous with the late commotions there, the happy political anticipations which grew out of the late catastrophe, for which the whig merchants and politicians so industriously exerted all their faculties.

Custom Louse Bonds .- It strikes us that the relief afforded by the government to the mercantile community, in the extension of payments until the 1st of October, is far more substantial than the license abuch the Collector, it is said, announced his intention to extend, contrary to the views of the government and the requirements of the statute, to the custom house debtors. Meanwhile, we do not doubt that every thing will bedone on the part of the government, that can become consistently with the laws and with the obligations of government towards their creditors and to the community generally, to a heriate the condition of things, to sustain and encourage the houses. tion of things, to sustain and encourage the business community under the existing pressure, and to facilitate as early a return to specie payments as practicable.

That such will not be the course of those who are predetermined to assail the government, and to create a pointical capital out of the present embarrassments, is very obvious. With them, not only is the whole action of the government perverted and misrepresented, but the meeting of Congress will be the signal of all sorts of schemes for the creation of a great moneyed power, under the guise of an attempted regulation of the currency, and for the postponement to the remotest period, the desired return to specie payments. The occasion is deemed by the friends of a national bank as a fit one to urge that measure upon Whig Oppression .- It is wonderful to see the perseverance and pertinacity with which the United States Bank presses adhere to the interests of that monied monster, and pull every string in order to resuscitate it. Every misfortune, every bankruptcy, every untoward event, and almost the drought and the tempest, are constantly ascribed by the Atlas and its fellow mercinaries, to the non-renewal of the bank charter, or to the non-creation of a new bank. Everyeffort is made and is making, to torture the public mind into a belief that such an institution is necessary to the public prosperity. That some advantages are to be derived from a United States Bank, no one will deny; but the evils arising from it, and the great dangers to be apprehended from such a corporation, so far overbalance the known or probable advantages, that it would be madness, after the recent experience of its tendency, to tolerate another. All efforts in favor of one must be met in the outset; must be denounced, opposed, and crushed.

The existing monetary pressure, which every man of observation and good common sense knows to be owing principally to over-trading and to a speculating mania, and more remotely to an undue proportion of the community being employed in trade instead of being producers, is from day to day falsely attributed to causes, which produce no such effect, but which it is for the interest of the bank party to represent in that light. On the contrary, the present crisis, and the recent INCREASE of the mercantile distresses, is to be attributed solely to whig measures, intended purposely to embarrass the government

83- How ridiculous are all those exclamations of passion which we daily hear among those who pretend to be the only true friends to the constitution, against the head of government. Do they seriously think that anything which Mr Van Buren has it in his power to do, would tend in any perceptible degree to alleviate the present misfortunes of the commercial world? If they do, they must be very stupidly blind to the causes of all this wide-spread eviland if they do not, they must be utterly destitute of honesty to make a pretence of wrath against the President of the United States for omitting to do what they know can-

13 The Panoramas of Jerusalem and Niagara will be publicly exhibited to-day. Jerusalem is a magnificent, interesting, and most extensive picture, and calculated to convey a peculiarly vivid impression of the ancient and sacred city, as it now is-the home alike of the Turk, the Jew, and the Christian. It is a forenoon view, representing the ordinary appearance of the city and its mhabitants during that portion of the day. Of the numerous and effectively executed scenes, introduced to exhibit in detail the manners, custems, and costumes of the diversified population, perhaps the most striking is the preparations for inflicting the punishment of the bastinado on a number of Bedonin Arabs, who are accused of robbing a Greek Convent, by two Greck priests, who prefer their charges on bended knees, before the Moslem Musti and the Governor of the city. Every portion of the panorama, yesterday, received the unqualified admiration of several gentlemen of taste and judgment, who visited it. This painting was executed by R. Burford, from drawings taken at Jerusalem in 1834 by F. Catherwood, Architect, who has now the general superintendence of the Exhibition.

The panorama of Niagara also met the entire approbation of a number of travelled gentlemen, who have visited the Falls.

The new building, erected for the exhibition, is spacious, lofty, and well devised for the purpose. The panoramas are viewed from two tiers of circular galleries, erected in the centre of the area. The Exhibition will no doubt take a first rank among the public resorts of the season.

Death on the Pale Horse .- In answer to the thousand inquiries respecting this matchless painting by the late Benj. West, it will be seen by an advertisement in to-day's paper that it is now open at the Diorama, corner of Tremont and Boylston streets.

This extraordinary picture was the last great effort of the artist, and was painted in his 80th year. It was considered in Europe the chef dauvre of his scripture Illustrations, and was visited in London by upwards of two hundred thousand persons. It is now the property of the Pennsylvania Academy of Arts in Philadelphia, who have purchased it for several thousand dollars and have permitted its exhibition in this City for a limited time under the judicious management of Mr Wright.

POLICE COURT.

Judge Lynch in Limbo .- A cruel case of Lynching came out in Court yesterday, upon the arraignment of Edward M'Nab and Michael Ruddy, who were charged with breaking into the forecastle of the brig Alcanas, with the intention of committing a robbery. The witnesses in support of the accusation were Thomas and Samuel Scholfield, officers on board of the Alca-

Thomas Scholfield testified that the hatch had been fastened down with a nail; that a little after nine at night, he discovered one of the prisoners in the force stle, and the other on the steps. M'Nab had been employed as a laborer on board of the brig in the course of the day, and had an opportunity of observing that there was a large quantity of valuable rigging in the forewere secured, and afterwards delivered up to the Watch.

His Honor, Judge Rogers, now told the prisoners to ask such questions, as they deemed necessary for their defence; but M'Nab preferred to make a statement of his side of the case, before going into the interrogatories. His manner was in his favor, and his statement, which was as follows, had an appearance of plausibility-so much so that the most experienced offcers in Court-who are not the most charitable judges of prisoners - were inclined to believe that it was strictly true :

M'Nab-I had been at work in the vessel yesterday, and was to finish to-day. Last night I had no home to go to, because I had no money, and as it was raining very hard, I thought I would take this other boy (Ruddy) along with me, and take caused by raising her steam to its extreme power, -a bar- was no breaking open of the batch. As I got down the steps, rel of whiskey was placed on deck for the use of the hands the tall gentleman (Thomas Scholfield) came up, and called to He called us thieves and robbers, and would not listen to me, when I told him I had been at work in the vessel, and only came on board for shelter, and to be ready in the morning. But they would not harken to us, but commenced beating us with ropes. captain's three children and his father. His wife was They first flogged me as long as they could lay it on without tying us, and then tied us, and commenced beating us again, till I was flogged almost to death. I begged for Godsake, they would stop, and give us up to the Watch, that we might take the course of the law, if we had done wrong. We were then tied round the middle, and dropped down into the hold.

Judge.-You had better put these matters to the witnesses in the shape of questions. M'Nab .- Well, then, yer Worship, I'll ax him, if he did n't chooses. Thomas Scho'field .- We flogged you a little, but none to hurt. M'Nab .- None to hurt! Why, I thought I should never get breaking into your vessel? Samuel Scholfield, being interrogated, said-" They were saucy, and I gave them half a dozen blows, with a piece of rattling, and I'd do it at anytime to an Irishman!" Judge.-Well, you had no right to flog an Irishman, any more than any other man, in that way. The defendants, upon this evidence, ought to be held to answer before a jury for entering the vessel; but at the same time something ought to be done to bring the conduct of the witnesses before the Grand Jury, and I'll see that Mr Parker, the County Attorney, is informed of the case, in time to have it investigated at the same time, as the charge against the prisoners comes up. The prisoners must recognize for their appearance to answer at the Municipal Court, in the sum of $ 200. As the prisoners could not give bonds, they were then remanded to the cells; but the Veteran Constable, George Reed, entertained a strong conviction, that their condition demanded immediate inquiry. He therefore called upon three witnesses to go down with him, and examined their backs. Ruddy had several bruises on his back, and on one arm ; but M'Nab's was barbarously marked. The skin was lashed off on the lower innholders and the temperance societies reminded him of a part of the left shoulder blade, and there were beside, two came up, and made a complaint against both of the Scholfields, for a high and aggravated assault, and they were put upon their defence forthwith. They affected to laugh at this sudden change A Heavy Draft for Specie.- A New York lady of position; but gradually grew serious as the case advanced. The two prisoners were then brought up, as witnesses; and, after Reed had described the condition of their backs, they again stated the facts. TENTH VOLUME

OF THE

KNICKERBOCKER MAGAZINE.

'A NATIONAL Periodical Literature,' says a distinguished American statesman, 'is the graceful ernament of civil liberty, and a happy restraint on the asperities which political controversies sometimes occasion. It is an embellishment of society, and diffuses positive good throughout the whole extent of its influence.' And one of scarcely less eminence, both as a man and a patriot, has declared, that 'LEISURE and Money bestowed upon instructive and entertaining periodical reading, can never be abused nor misapplied; and it is honorable,' he adds, 'to thousands in our country-of our young population, especially—that both (often obtained by much labor and self-denial,) are liberally and worthily applied to this object. The good effects of this propensity are not confined to present intellectual enjoyment: they pervade the future, with an influence alike salutary and powerful.' Such a native literature as is here alluded to, it has been the purpose of the Magazine, a new volume of which is herewith announced, to render honored at home and respected abroad. Its Editors have aimed to suit their periodical to readers of every denomination-to make it generally entertaining and useful. They have endeavored to blend instruction with amusement-to pass from light and gay effusions to stern disquisition; to mingle erudition with wit; to allure and please the studious and the grave, as well as the lover of fight reading; to the former suggesting matter for reflection and remark, infusing into the latter the love of knowledge, and affording to both a not inelegant nor uninstructive relaxation and amusement.

On the first of July, 1837, will commence the tenth volume of the KNICKERBOCKER, OR NEW-YORK MONTHLY MAGA-ZINE. The publishers, mindful of the favor with which their efforts have been received at the hands of the public, would embrace the recurrence of a new starting-point, as a fit occasien to 'look backward and forward' at the past and prospective character and course of their periodical. Within the brief space of a little more than two years and a half, the number of copies issued of the KNICKERBOCKER has been increased from less than five hundred to more than four thousand, without other aids than the acknowledged merits of the work-acknowledged, not more explicitly by this unprecedented success, than by upward of three thousand highly favorable notices of the Magazine, which, at different times, have appeared in the various journals of the United States, embracing those of the first and most discriminating class, in every section of the Union. Of many hundreds who desired specimen numbers, and to whom they have been sent for examination, previous to subscribing, not one but has found the work worthy of immediate subscription. A correct inference in regard to the interest or quality of the matter furnished by the publishers, may be gathered from the foregoing facts. In relation to the quantity given, it need only be said, that it has always exceeded the maximum promised, and in the numbers for the last year, by more than four hundred pages. Of the clearness and beauty of the typographical execution and materiel of the KNICKERBOCKER, and the character of its embellishments-which, although not expected by its readers, nor promised by its proprietors, have nevertheless been given-it is not deemed necessary to speak. They will challenge comparison, it is believed, with any similar periodical, at home or abroad. It has been observed, that the constant aim of the Editors. in the management of the KNICKERBOCKER, has been to make the work entertaining and agreeable, as well as solid and useful. It is perhaps owing to a predominance of these first-named characteristics, that it has become so widely known to the public. In addition to several well-known and popular series of numbers-such as the 'Odds and Ends of a Penny-a-Liner,' 'Ollapodiana,' the 'Palmyra Letters,' 'An Actor's Alloquy,' 'Leaves from the Blank Book of a Country Schoolmaster,' 'Wilson Conworth,' 'Life in Florida,' 'Loaferiana,' 'The Eclectic,' 'Passages from the Common-place Book of a Septuagenarian,' Notes from Journals of Travels in America, and in various Foreign Countries, 'The Fidget Papers,' etc.,-liberal space has been devoted to interesting Tales, illustrating American society, manners, the times, etc., embracing, beside, stories of the sea, and of pathos and humor, upon a great variety of subjects, together with biographies, legends, and essays, upon numerous and varied themes, interspersed with frequent articles of poetry, of such a description as to secure for the Magazine, in this department, a gratifying preëminence and celebrity. But neither the scientific nor the learned, the solid nor the useful, has been omitted, or lightly regarded. Original articles, from distinguished writers, (which have attracted much attention in this country, and several of which have been copied and lauded abroad,) have appeared in the recent numbers of the work, upon the following subjects:

Past and Present State of American Literature; South American Antiquities; Inland Navigation; Geology and Revealed Religion; Insanity and Monomania; Liberty versus Literature and the Fine Arts; Early History of the Country; Connexion of the Physical Sciences; Atmospheric Electricity, a New Theory of Magnetism, and Molecular Attraction; American Female Character; Pulmonary Consumption Pulpit Eloquence; The Prospects and Duties of the Age; Health of Europe and America; Literary Protection and International Copy Right; Poetry of the Inspired Writings; Chinese Nations and Languages, Chemistry (Laboratory of Nature); The Past, the Present, and the Future; Our Country, with Comments on its Parties, Laws, Public Schools, and Sketches of American Society, Men, Education, Manners, and Scenery; Philosophy of the Rosicrucians; Intellectual Philosophy, Philology, Astronomy, Animal and Vegetable Physiology, Astrology, Botany, Mineralogy, and Phrenology Progress of the Age, and of Modern Liberty; Christianity in France; American Organic Remains; Historical Recollections; the Nature of Comets; Discussion on Scriptural Miracles; Sectional Distinctions of the Union; Peace Societies; Periodicity of Diseases; Essays on Music, Fine Writing, etc. together with many articles of a kindred description, which it would exceed the limits of this advertisement to enumerate in detail.

Allusion has not been had to the Literary Reviews of new works-which have embraced all the current literature of the day, with copious and interesting extracts-nor to the editorial division, in which are chronicled all interesting matters of a local and general nature, with Original Miscellanies, Notices of the Drama, the Fine Arts, etc. In short, in all things, it has been the steady purpose of the publishers and editors-Americans by birth and in heart-to present a magazine thoroughly AMERICAN in its tendencies, free from politi cal or party bias, and wide and various in its scope, in which all should find something to interest or instruct, and none any thing offensive to good taste, or subversive of sound morals, pure patriotism, or true religion.

Among those who have contributed papers of a learned scientific, or solid and useful character-including two or three whose articles are in preparation-may be mentioned the following:

Dr. Rush, Philad.,

To the foregoing particulars, the publishers would only add, that at no period since the work passed into their hands. have its literary capabilities and prospects been so ample and auspicious as at present; and that not only will the same exertions be continued, which have secured to their subscription list an unexampled increase, but their claims upon the public favor will be enhanced by every means which increasing endeavor, enlarged facilities, and the most liberal expenditure, can command. Back numbers have been reprinted to supply Volume Nine, and five thousand copies of Volume Ten will be printed, to meet the demands of new subscribers. The work is new so firmly established in the public regard, as to be beyond the reach of any contingency which can affect its permanence. Increased encouragement, however, would still enable the publishers to add to the enjoyment of their readers. And they readily promise, that in an equal ratio with the enhancement of their ability, through the liberality of the public, shall be their effective labors. If each subscriber to the work, who has derived pleasure from its perusal, would send one or more names, (a not difficult task, it is confidently believed,) the publishers can safely affirm, that no periodical, foreign or domestic, will be permitted to exceed in variety and interest the KNICKER BOCKER MAGAZINE.

A FEW brief notices of the Knickerbocker, from well-known journals, are subjoined:

'The progress of the Knickerbocker is still onward. It is conducted with decided ability, is copious and varied in its contents, and is printed in a superior style. At this season we have little space for literary extracts, and cannot, there fore, enable those of our readers who may not see this Magazine, to judge of its merits, otherwise than upon our assurance that they are of a high order.'—New-York American.

'We have found in the Knickerbocker so much to admire, and so little to condemn, that we can hardly trust ourselves to speak of it from first impressions, as we could not do so, without being suspected of extravagant praise.' 'It is not surpassed by any of its contemporaries at home or abroad.' 'It sustains high ground in all the requisites of a Magazine; and we are pleased to see that its merits are appreciated abroad as well as at home.'—Albany Argus.

'This monthly periodical is now so well known, that it hardly needs commendation; having established for itself a character among the ablest and most entertaining publica-tions in the land.'—New-York Journal of Commerce.

'The Knickerbocker seems to increase in attraction as it advances in age. It exhibits a monthly variety of contributions, unsurpassed in number or ability.'—Nat. Intelligencer. 'The work is in the highest degree creditable to the literature of our country.'-Washington Globe. 'We have read several numbers of this talented periodical. and rejoiced in them. They would do credit to any country, or to any state of civilization to which humanity has yet arrived."-Marryat's London Metropolitan Magazine.

We hope it will not be inferred, from our omission to no tice the several numbers of the Knickerbocker as they have appeared, that we have therefore lost sight of its high character and increasing excellence. It has become decidedly one of the best magazines in America. The proprietors have succeeded in procuring for its pages the first talent of this country, as well as valuable aid from distinguished foreign sources.'-New-York Mirror.

We have on several occasions adverted to the spirit and tone of the articles contained in this periodical, as being radically American, and as highly honorable to our literature.' 'It seizes the spart of the times, and deals with it boldly and ably.'-Baltimore American.

There is no publication among the many we receive from the Old Country, and from this continent, to the receipt of which we look forward with higher expectation than the Knickerbocker; and it never disappoints our anticipations.'

'Its contents are of real excellence and variety. No department is permitted to decline, or to appear in bad contrast with another.'—Philadelphia Inquirer. 'This American Magazine bids fair to rival some of our best English monthlies. It contains many very excellent articles.'—London Atlas.

'Its contents are spirited-well conceived, and well written.'-United States' Gazette. 'In our humble opinion, this is the best literary publication in the United States, and deserves the extensive patronagit has received.'—Columbia (S.C.) Telescope.

A valuable stone quarry and water power upon the Ottowa river, 10 miles west of Toledo, embracing the point where the Toledo and Michigan City Radroad will probably cross—containing 80 acres of Limit.

Toledo and Michigan City Radroad will probably cross—containing 80 acres of land.

480 acres of the finest quality of farming lands, adjoining the village of Sylvania, 10 miles from Toledo. The soil is dry, and well adapted to gardening or ornamental farming. A portion of this tract can be conveniently laid off into lots, and form an important addition to the village which it adjoins. The Eric and Kalamazoo Railroad passes through the centre of it, and there is a small frame house and other improvements upon it.

An undivided interest in the thriving village of Palmyra, situated upon the river Raisin, 26 miles northwest of Toledo, embracing an excellent water power, which is well improved. The Erie and Kalamazoo Railtond, which is now in tull operation, crosses at this point; and the Palmyra and Jacksonburgh Railroad, a considerable portion of which is already under contract, and rapidly progressing in its construction, terminates in the heart of the village. It contains 211 acres of land, and the town is rapidly increasing in population and business.

2500 acres of choice farming lands, well timbered, lying from one and a half to four miles from the village of Blissfield, on the river Raisin, and 25 miles fr m Tolsdo, where there is a good water power, and mills now in operation. These lands are also within a short distance of the Ruilroad. From 8,000 to 10,000 acres of choice farming lands, ituated from 10 to 25 miles from Teledo, upon the line of the Toledo and Michigaa city raifroad; and embracing all the different varieties of timbered, opening, and gratic lands.

An undivided interest in the valuable water power and town site upon the Little St Josephs river, 56 miles west of Toledo. It contains 640 acres of land.

IN WISCONSIN TERRITORY.

An important interest, comprising a large number of lots in Madison, the seat of government of Wisconsin.

An undivided interest in the town site of Marquett, on Lake Fucksway, an important Steamboat Landing on Fox River, similar to Peoria, on the Hinois river, containing about 500 nerrs of land.

Two valuable town sites at the outlet and inlet of the Four Lakes, embracing an extensive water power at the former place, and controlling the terminating points of the proposed canals uniting those Lakes with the Wisconsin and Rock rivers. Also an interest in the crossings between the 1st and 2d Lakes—the site of an old Indian village Important and thriving towns must soon spring up at each of these points. They embrace about 1200 acres of land.

An undivided interest in the Grand Crossings and extensive water power at the Rapids of Sugar river, upon which the old Agency House, and a large Indian village were formerly situated. It embraces 424 acres of land.

An undivided interest in the valuable fown site at the outlet of Lake Koshkenong, the head of navigation for the larger class of Steamboats upon Rock river. This is a splendid location; and is, without doubt, the most important and communing position for an interior town, within the Territory of Wisconsin. It is now the site of a large Indian village, and will, in a few years become one of the most populous and building cities west of Lake Michigan. It contains about 900 neces of land.

PENJAMIN LORING & CO. 122 State street, have instructed by the Cameo, trom London, a new article of the Steel Peu, manufactured by Perryian, the original intentor of this most wonderful improvement.

Patent Perryian Regulating Flat Spring Pen.—The flexibility given to this pen by the flat spring is superior to that found in the best quill, it may be made harder or softer, by placing the pen higher or lower in the holder; will write on any sort of paper with the greatest freedom, and never fatigues the hand.

Patent Perryian Regulating Spring Pen.—The novel invention, by means of the regulating spring, commands all the ease and freedom of the best quill; it may also be made harder or softer, to suit the hand or taste of the writer, by simply moving the spring higher or lower, according to the degree of describing a spring higher or lower, according to the degree of the writer, by simply and flexibility required.

Patent Perryian Elastic Pen Holder, with appropriate Pens.

The novel construction of the elastic holder, conters in the Pen unequalled advantages, by imparting an agreeable softness and flexibility, rendering it so perfectly unrestrained in its action, that it never fatigues the hand, and enables it to pass over any description of paper with ease and expedition.

Patent Perryian India Rubber Spring Pen.—This novel application of Caoutehoue effects an extraordinary elasticity in the patent pen, and its advantages over the quill must be universally acknowledged.
